PROGRAM DESCRIPTION: We will begin our evening program with a round table discussion on Accurate Reporting. Next, we host a one-hour session on Ethics to help home inspectors meet the MA state licensing renewal requirement to earn one hour of continuing education in ethics. William Sutton of Bay Colony Home Inspection Consultants, Inc. will lead the one-hour presentation. The final hour of the evening offers a mini-seminar on Home Inspection of Heating Oil Tanks presented by Kevin Hoag of Commonwealth Tank of Wakefield, MA. This program, which is drawn from what is normally a four-hour program, will familiarize home inspectors with the proper installation of home heating oil tanks, their valves, pipes and lines. Common problem areas will also be highlighted including unusual and dangerous situations, which may be observed during a home inspection. Inspectors will be made aware of warning signs of oil leaks, as well as receive an update on the regulations about fuel lines, and requirements for clean up of oil contamination in and around the home. Discussion will include indoor tanks, outdoor above ground tanks, oil tank safety, and underground oil tanks. Commonwealth Tank became an affiliate member of the chapter back in the fall of 2009. We thank them for their additional commitment to the chapter.
